

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

SESSIONAL SPECTATORS

WITH THE ADVENT of a new Government there is always a marked increase in the interest in the Legislative proceedings, as expressed in the galleries. Not only are there many more spectators—usually followers of the party in power—but among those peering down at the performance on the floor are a number of the old "faithfuls" who have become familiar faces at past sessions.

Often an American visitor comes into the gallery and is much intrigued by our parliamentary processes.

AMERICAN VIEW

I well recall the American bride who, on her honeymoon here a couple of years ago, later wrote to me that she was "thrilled" to see us in session. She added that "it was an eye-opener to see the courage of convictions displayed. Americans in the U.S. have much to learn about their need for a 'Crown' killing a Canadian's rights."

I have long wondered why so comparatively few Victorians take enough interest to come over to the House while it is in session. I have known people who have lived here all their lives, yet have never been in the Buildings and have never seen a sitting. It may, of course, be one way of expressing contempt for what goes on there. But, be that as it may, the fact remains that what does go on there closely affects every British Columbia citizen.

FAMILIARITY BREEDS...

Their indifference may be another demonstration of that curious quirk which makes us take the familiar scene for granted, to view distant fields as greener than those close at hand.

So I am always glad to see young faces peering down from the galleries, to watch the groups of schoolchildren who assemble above us from time to time, eager to learn how we go about the province's business and obviously curious as to the meaning and motives that underlie the various little ceremonies that mark the proceedings and as to the identities of those who happen to be taking part.

SCHOOLGIRL ON 'SENNIT'

A propos of the youngsters who follow the Legislative processes as part of their education, I do hope they get a better impression of us than did the little Ottawa girl who went one day to the Senate chamber with a small group from a class in social studies.

As is customary after such visits, she was asked to record her impressions in a paper on Current Affairs. Her teacher sent a friend in Victoria an excerpt from that child's essay, exactly as she wrote it:

SENATE'S 'VEETO'

Here it is in all its unconscious humor and irony:

"The Government of Canada sits in Ottawa. The ordinary Members of Parliament sit in the House of Commons and people called Senniters sit in the Sennit. If the Senniters do not like what the members do they say 'Veeto!' and the members have to think of something else. They do not say 'Veeto!' very often though, as this causes an uproar in the House and most of the Senniters are rather old. There is also a Cabinet in Ottawa which is filled with ministers who work in ministries. We must not confuse them with the ministers who work in churches and believe in God.

"Their servants are called Deputy Ministers and have to be friends with all part of Politics. Because of this they are known as civil servants instead of politicians. Current Affairs also include external affairs. This deals with important wines, ambassadors, and relations in foreign countries. If you have an aunt, say, in Mexico, the Canadian consul will get her out. This is Diplomacy and is very clever."

After all of which, nothing can be said!

Tardy Naming of Seaway Power Partner Irks Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government has lodged complaints with the new United States administration on U.S. delay in naming a partner for Canada in the power phase of the St. Lawrence navigation-power project.

Transport Minister Chevrier, in a speech Wednesday night at Port Arthur, said Canada is becoming "somewhat impatient" at the delay of the U.S. federal power commission in deciding on the New York State power authority's application to undertake the St. Lawrence power project.

External Affairs Minister Pearson said in the Commons that power commission discussions "must not delay any longer the whole project."

Mr. Chevrier said that, after five months, the U.S. power commission's hearing of the New York state application had been adjourned, with indications it will be some time yet before a decision is reached.

Canada is committed to build the navigation works alone. The Ontario hydro-electric commission will share construction of the power facilities with whatever U.S. agency is approved by Washington. It is generally believed that New York State will do the job.

DECISION WANTED

Mr. Chevrier asked: "Will there be no end to these delays? Why should it be necessary to postpone decision for another undetermined period? Why cannot we expect an early decision on the New York State application?"

"These are questions to which Canadians would like an answer, and I believe no one can complain about our desire to have one."

NO SUNDAY FISHING

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (CP)—The Orange Free State authorities decided not to relax the provincial ordinance which forbids angling on Sundays. The decision rejected appeals from anglers after one man was fined about $10 for fishing on Sunday.

Canada is committed to build the navigation works alone. The Ontario hydro-electric commission will share construction of the power facilities with whatever U.S. agency is approved by Washington. It is generally believed that New York State will do the job.

CCF to Renew NATO Criticism

Lack of Attention to Economic Side of Partnership Still Issue

OTTAWA (BUP)—CCF members of parliament were expected to chide Canada and her North Atlantic Treaty partners again today for putting too much reliance on the military side of the treaty and for giving too little attention to its economic clause.

The opposition was lining up to kick off its side of the full dress foreign affairs debate launched Wednesday by External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson. He said the war clouds in Europe were slowly parting, but there were fresh danger clouds in Korea arising out of the possibility of extending the war to the Chinese mainland.

He said in the Commons Wednesday that the Canadian government considers it essential that the Western powers should not press for military and economic measures that "certainly would not be supported and might in fact be actively opposed" by important non-Communist countries in Asia.

He did not pin down his reference to the possibilities of a United States blockade or other measures against Communist China.

Caution or Third World War

CCF member of parliament Stanley Knowles (Winnipeg-North Centre) told a Saskatchewan nominating convention Wednesday that changes in U.S. foreign policy could bring the "catastrophe" of a third world war unless extreme caution was exercised.

The withdrawal of the U.S. Seventh Fleet as a shield for Formosa "may not mean a great deal in itself," Knowles said. "But it is a mistake for the Canadian government to say to the U.S. government that we are concerned but we trust you."

Knowles said this could encourage Washington to "go on a further step" which still might not be serious. "But somewhere down the line we may get the step which leads to the catastrophe that will bring a third world war."

Hazen Argue (CCF-Assiniboia) told the St. Lawrence-St. George CCF club in Montreal Wednesday that President Eisenhower's order "is fraught with danger and is viewed with alarm by the CCF," Argue said. "The order is a mistake, not only because it may result in an extension of the Korean war, but also because it is purely a U.S. directive, given after little or no consultation with other members of the U.N."

"Chiang Kai-Shek is a liability," Argue said. "The Chinese people will never again accept him as their leader, and it will appear to the whole of Asia as an American attempt to foist a puppet on the Chinese nation."

Pearson Lauds NATO Achievement

NATO was expected to come under CCF fire in the House today.

The 15-man Socialist group in the House last year criticized NATO for putting too much of its effort into military preparedness, and urged greater efforts among the North Atlantic partners in building up economic strength.

If the same charge was made today—and it was expected it would be, on the basis of recent statements published by the CCF party's national headquarters here—the government was expected to have a ready answer.

Pearson said Wednesday NATO was "the greatest achievement of our time."

"Largely because of the founding and building up of a defense coalition of 14 nations in the last four years, the temptation to an easy aggression and victory in Europe has been removed," he said.

But the CCF group has taken the view that Canada's military commitments have gone far enough. The Socialist group also believed that European partners in NATO, principally the United Kingdom and France, have over extended their efforts on the military side, to the detriment of their national economies.

Russia Breaks Off Diplomatic Ties With Israel Over Bombing

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union broke off diplomatic relations with Israel Wednesday night. The eight adults and one child at the Israeli legation here began packing at once to leave Moscow.

The Russians acted, a government note to Israel said, because of the bomb explosion Monday at the Soviet legation in Tel Aviv, Israel's capital.

The note, which Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky handed to Israel's minister here, Samuel Ella Shev, accused Israeli government leaders of inciting hostile action against the Soviet Union.

The Soviet government, the note concluded, "recalls the envoy of the Soviet Union and personnel of the Soviet legation at Tel Aviv... breaks off relations with the Israeli government... states that the further stay in Moscow of the Israeli legation is impossible, and demands that the personnel of the legation leave the Soviet Union without delay."

The note turned aside subsequent explanations and apologies by the Israeli government and accused it of falsehoods, double dealing, and a "systematic fanning of hatred and enmity toward the Soviet Union and an incitement to hostile actions against the Soviet Union."

Israeli police were accused of conspiring in the bombing. In Tel Aviv, circles close to the Israeli foreign office speculated that all eastern block states would follow the Soviet lead and break off relations with Israel, except perhaps Bulgaria.

That satellite was viewed as a prospective custodian for Russian interests, which include large real estate holdings formerly belonging to the Russian Orthodox Church and recently transferred to Soviet jurisdiction.

A-Bombing of Reds Up to Eisenhower

President's First Moves Coupled With Van Fleet's Answers, Open Up Old Question

NEW YORK (UP)—Is the United States going to use the atom in Korea?

The answer probably is that no one, not even President Eisenhower, knows for sure at this moment.

The question comes strongly to the fore now for two reasons. One is General Eisenhower's obvious intention to keep the Reds guessing about this country's next move in the hot and cold wars. The other is one of Gen. James A. Van Fleet's closing remarks as he gave up his 23-month-long command of the U.S. Eighth Army in Korea. Before he left, the United Press put this question to him at Eighth Army Headquarters in Seoul.

"Would it be militarily feasible to use atomic weapons? Would it save lives in breaking the vast network of enemy tunnel defenses which so far have withstood massed UN artillery and air attacks?"

Van Fleet's reply was flat and firm. "The department of the army has announced the development of atomic weapons for tactical use in the field," he said.

N. Vancouver To Operate Own Hospital

VANCOUVER (CP)—Suburban North Vancouver will continue to operate its own 110-bed hospital.

Mayor Frank Goldworthy announced the decision today when he returned from a meeting with government officials in Victoria. He said the North Vancouver delegation have been assured of a $14.05 fixed daily payment for each patient this year as in 1952.

"This guarantees us a revenue for the year which we can count on and we are now in the position to negotiate with labor," he added.

Nurses and other hospital employees are seeking a 40-hour week and wage increases, which would raise the hospital budget by $72,000 annually. There are 150 workers.

Koreans Join Empire Division

SEOUL (AP)—Lt. Gen. William Bridgeford, retiring commander of British Commonwealth forces in Korea, said today 1,000 South Korean infantry will be made part of the Commonwealth division as "fighting men."

Bridgeford told reporters Republic of Korea troops will join Commonwealth forces along the same lines as Koreans in U.S. divisions. The program will start later this month.

They will be integrated at the ratio of 10 to 1 or about 100 to an infantry battalion. No Korean officers will be integrated for the time being, he said.

Bridgeford talked with reporters along with Lt. Gen. Henry Wells of Australia, who will succeed him as head of the Commonwealth forces. Bridgeford, 59, will leave Japan Monday for Australia and retirement from the army after 40 years' service.

Express Sees Japanese Goods Flooding UK

Paper Would Have Britain Leave GATT

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Express says today the admission of Japan to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade at the current session in Geneva would mean "disaster to Britain."

"Mark this," says the Express, which follows an independent, imperialist editorial line. "If Japan becomes a member of GATT it will mean that Britain will be powerless to protect herself against Japanese goods."

"She will have to stand by and watch her home and colonial markets flooded with the produce of cheap Japanese labor. She will be unable to raise even a penny tariff against them."

"How can there be anything else save disaster when on almost every manufactured commodity Japan can undercut Britain?"

QUALITY
"It will be said that the quality of British goods is superior. And so it is."

"But how many people in our colonial markets will prefer quality to cheapness?"

"Is there any way of avoiding the danger that now looms so frighteningly near?"

"There is one way out. It is for Britain to get out of GATT herself. And to restore to British hands a right which should never, never have been abandoned. The right to protect our own trade and our own people by the erection of whatever preferences are necessary."

"The first dog show of record was held in England on June 28, 1839."

ROSENBERGS PLAN ANOTHER APPEAL

President Eisenhower Refuses to Spare Lives of Convicted Atom Spies; Date Pends

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has refused to spare the lives of the Rosenbergs, whose controversial death sentences for atomic spying he termed just punishment for a crime which "could very well result in the death of many, many thousands of innocent citizens."

A lawyer for the husband and wife said he would carry a new appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, which on two previous occasions has refused to review the case. The court seldom changes its mind in such circumstances.

The Rosenbergs—Julius, 34, and Ethel, 36—received the word that the president had turned down their appeal in the death cell block at New York's Sing Sing prison. They had no comment. They insisted they are innocent.

Their electrocution, originally set for Jan. 24, had been delayed by Trial Judge Irving R. Kaufman while the presidential appeal was pending. The judge's stay expires four days hence; he will then fix a new date for the death sentence to be carried out.

If it is, the Rosenbergs will be the first American civilians to pay with their lives for the crime of espionage against the U.S.

That fact has figured largely in the world-wide propaganda campaign, sparked by Communists, to save them.

Some non-Communists, too.

Fighting Dwindles

SEOUL (AP)—Fighting dwindled to small raids and patrol clashes on the Korean battle front today as the warmest weather of the year carried into a second day.

The temperature climbed well into the 40s across the 155-mile battle line. Rain swept the western sector.

A dozen B-29 bombers pounded Communist installations near Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

The School They Voted for

MAYOR HARRISON AND ALD. Macmillan have launched a move to prevent the demolition of the old Girls' Central School to make way for a new Central Junior High. Their interest in economy will be generally appreciated. They have as much right to protest as any other ratepayer in the city.

But they might profitably look over the by-laws passed by Victoria property owners in 1947 and 1950 before they carry their protests too far.

In 1947 the qualified voters approved a by-law for $954,000 to build "a new Central Junior High." They did not vote for a reconstruction job on existing premises, although renovations, additions and reconstructions were listed for other schools in the Greater Victoria district when the building program was drawn up.

Again, in 1950, when it became apparent that rising building costs would probably leave the school board without enough funds to build and equip a new Central Junior High School, the voters approved a supplementary money by-law to bring the total up to $1,210,000 for that project.

These were the decisions of the people—the taxpayers—who were informed on the proposed building program in an intensive campaign undertaken by trustees to show the public the school needs of this community and the plans made to meet them.

It should be noted that at one time in the discussions consideration was given to using part of the old Girls' Central in the new school. Following exhaustive study on that point, architects advised against the proposal. They expressed the view that renovation would cost more than it was worth, that the building was little more than a shell at best, and that if it were incorporated into a new school, it could not be justified on the basis of renovation costs and its intrinsic worth.

On the strength of that advice the school board asked the qualified voters to approve a money by-law for a new school. That by-law was passed.

Present plans for Central Junior High make provision for 150 more students than now attend classes in the old buildings. This accommodation, it is understood, will take pupils from South Park. The plans are drawn up with a view to meeting the needs of the community, not of one locality alone.

It is nonsense to suggest that the demolition of the old Girls' Central is sought just because the board does not like the appearance of the old building. The school board, elected by the people to serve them in educational matters, has a better grasp of realities than that.

After a great deal more consideration than has been given to the question by most of its critics, the trustees arrived at the conclusion that Victoria could be best served by the construction of a new school. They asked approval for that project from the only people who could give it. The people, the property owners, endorsed the plan.

It would be quite possible, physically, to incorporate the old structure into a revamped school at a price. But the result would not be what the property owners called for.

And when it comes to expert opinion on construction, Victorians cannot help recalling the record of the city council on its own most recent major building project, the Arena. Is that record so free of blemishes that it inspires public confidence in a municipal council rather than a school board?

From the Seed He Planted

FIGURES RELEASED BY FORMER Premier Johnson following the last election revealed the fact that British Columbia's hospital insurance scheme had moved out of the red during the first half of last year's operations. A surplus was recorded.

In the legislature this week, Health and Welfare Minister Martin, replying to a question, tabled more figures to indicate the manner in which that surplus had grown.

Since it is yet too early to determine the full influence of Social Credit policies on hospital insurance, the statement given to the legislature this week indicates the success with which the former administration was coping with its hospital insurance problems. The seed planted by the Johnson government is now showing its harvest.

According to these figures, paid-up registrants rose from 345,792 at January 31, 1951, to 374,520 on January 31, 1952. By the end of last month another 5,000 had been added.

Reports indicate a highly satisfactory response from the last bill, which started in November.

Though he declined to use for political purposes the favorable statement available to him on hospital insurance prior to the last election, it must be gratifying to Mr. Johnson today to realize how fully appreciated is the service he introduced to this province.

No scheme of such magnitude could escape faults at its inception. Trial and error were inevitable. As he surveys the results disclosed in the most recent tabulation of figures, Mr. Johnson is entitled to satisfaction not only on the concept of hospital insurance he translated to fact, but on the manner in which its shortcomings were being corrected under his administration.

The Arts Centre Makes Its Plea

OFFICERS OF THE ARTS Centre of Greater Victoria have published a pamphlet describing in brief form the activities of the centre during the first 15 months of its operations, the goals immediately ahead of it and the underlying purposes served by such an institution.

Among other facts, the pamphlet notes that over 20,000 visitors have been to the centre, including 3,000 school children and students. It states that while 45 art classes were held for children, hundreds had to be turned away because facilities were inadequate and that similar conditions existed in the adult section. The records note 120 gallery tours under curator Colin Graham, seven musical recitals, five lectures on drama, 10 flower arrangement classes, film showings, art lectures, recorded music concerts, traveling exhibitions, showings by local artists and other events.

The report illustrates at once the very genuine appreciation this community has for its Arts Centre and the urgent need for expansion. That expansion calls for funds. Money is needed to create a fireproof addition to the existing building to house special exhibits. Money is needed to meet the requirements of art-hungry citizens who can not be accommodated in present quarters.

Directors fix minimum requirements for a five-year program of expansion and budget balancing at $25,000 by public subscription. They ask for support now. Their appeal is a challenge to a community which has shown on many occasions its interest in cultural development. The answer to that challenge should be a ready response to the appeal.

Food for Thought

CHANGES IN THE MODERN world do not seem to have affected the virtue of the old-time adages. "One man's meat is another man's poison" is possibly several thousand years old as a comment on mankind's behaviour. Yet though it may be as ancient as the pyramids it is as new as television.

In the United States television was seized upon as a first-rate come-on by the bars and taverns. In many communities such drinking places were the only spots in town where the flickering screen could be viewed. Many a man's first sight of TV came through the bottom of a beer glass. As an attraction the video marvel must have brought many a new customer through the tavern doors. Television was meat to the licensed proprietors.

But in Britain the result has been otherwise. London pub owners are glum because statistics seem to indicate that television programs are keeping one-time beer drinkers home of an evening. They've been advised to emphasize cheerfulness and civility in an effort to lure their patrons back. For them the meat of their colleagues in the U.S., if not poison, is at any rate very tough chewing.

Let Them Do a Little Worrying for a Change

Trials at the Lunch Counter

Learning to Eat in English

BY ERIKA NEUBAUER, New Canadian From Austria

YOU are hungry and curious to find out the different style of restaurants here in the new country. You have heard a lot about counter service—let's try it.

You see people facing a big golden framed mirror, sitting one close to the other on the bar stools. First you wonder how to master the seat in front of the counter with the same grace as this elderly lady did, seemingly trained since childhood.

You remember that the seat at the bar in the European scene means something extravagant, connected only with the liquor business and always veiled with an atmosphere of demimonde.

Don't mix that idea with the bar or the counter here.

SECOND BOTTLE

You see the elderly gentleman to your right: he looks like a man who would only enjoy hard liquor, but you see he has just finished the second bottle of milk.

But sit down, please, and try for yourself, how easy and different these bar stools are. The miss behind the counter looks at you in a hurry and addresses you only with a firm "yes?" You have to get used to it. This "yes?" means that she is expecting your order without hesitation.

Naturally you are confused and for the first time you haven't the slightest idea what the secret signs on the wall around the mirror mean. People around you have stopped eating and are looking at you, sensing your new-comer state. May I help you? and they will explain the menu card to you, this book with seven seals.

MANY DISHES

It starts usually with appetizers and you have to learn that they cover soup, juices and cold fish dishes, prepared and dressed in a fancy appetizing manner with olives, celery, leaves of lettuce. Don't spend too much time in this department, if you feel hungry, switch over to the main department with meat—the veal or pork chops you are more used to.

Besides you have to learn something about the beverages: do you like milk like your neighbor is having? Or do you want a soft drink? It is a whole field in itself to learn about the different tastes of Seven Up, Orange Crush, Pepsi Cola, ginger ale, root beer—don't confuse it with beer.

You can get beer only in a licensed tavern and if you are a lady you have to use the ladies' entrance. Not every tavern is open for ladies—don't make the mistake of stepping in, when you read the familiar sign "tavern" as I did, asking for a cup of coffee.

The manager told me in a strong manner: "This establishment, madam, is only for men and you can get only beer. You have to go next door." And to make certain, that I would leave he took my hand and guided me to the door.

WIDE FIELD

But let's go back to the counter after this experience and try to find out what fountain suggestions mean: surely you want a dessert? Now we are stepping right in the wide field of ice creams, any flavor. You can taste your ice cream mixed in milk shakes, ice cream sodas or sundaes and the best thing is to try and find out which of the different flavors—bittersweet, strawberry and the familiar chocolate or vanilla—will suit you the best.

Learn another new food habit: to mix very hot and very cold together: pie a la mode with hot coffee.

It takes time to find out that a deviled egg sandwich is a kind of egg salad with dressing of oil and vinegar and mustard, or what the imagination of the salad woman is hiding under a "three decker"—besides the familiar lettuce, tomato and ham.

'FANCY FOOD'

This wide group of "fancy food"—nicely decorated dishes—with bold combinations of sweet and sour, warm and cold will be another area to discover with time.

Now you have to learn another new experience: self service in the cafeteria.

You aren't a born waitress as everybody seems to be in this country, nor are you trained from childhood to balance a tray in an easy, graceful way. You behave like a European, very green. But you have to learn it. Start to take a tray and put on it in the right order, serviette, spoon, fork and knife. Look around you, how cleverly men in this country handle the thing: you will wonder and be ashamed.

MAKE YOUR CHOICE

You line up with your tray and make your choice from the nicely decorated dishes at the counter: the checker at the end of the counter tells you what you have to pay.

Take the table very near to the cashier the first time. You feel naturally as if everybody is staring at you with a secret laughter about your stiff attitude, knowing you are a newcomer.

Oh, I see it will take a long time for you to get a job as a waitress. But if you don't like to learn to serve yourself, you can go around the corner to a "more decorated, cosy place, sitting at a table where a waitress is waiting to serve you. She addresses you more personally—a lovely play today—but she is waiting, too, for your tip.

As Our Readers See It

LOYALTY TEST

May I correct a statement in your editorial of a few days ago regarding the government's discourtesy to Mr. Finlayson, leader of the Conservative Party.

You mention both Mr. Bennett and Mrs. Rolston were "loyal" members of the Conservative Party until a short time prior to the last election.

In this statement you are in error. Mr. Bennett and Mrs. Rolston were at no period "loyal" members of the Conservative Party.

MEDICAL PROGRESS

Many people are continually boasting about the wonderful progress we are making in every field of endeavor, especially medical science, yet owing to the financial condition of thousands of our people they are unable to take advantage of these new medical discoveries. Many of these people are pioneers who have helped to make Canada one of the richest countries in the world.

Surely it must be obvious to all intelligent people that there is something wrong either with our government or the people when we see a country like Great Britain, that is poor in comparison to Canada, supporting one of the best health systems in the world, where everyone gets equal medical attention regardless of their financial condition.

This is what I call real progress toward a more humane social order in which man is considered more valuable than stocks or bonds.

There are several reasons why we don't have a national health service here... purely selfish reasons.

One is because the medical profession and the drug business don't want it.

Then there are people who have had very little sickness or trouble and are financially able to take care of their own medical needs.

Such people are inclined to be self-centred and indifferent to the needs of those who are less fortunate.

These are main obstacles that are holding back the dawn of a better day.

ROYAL OAK.

I would like also to express my appreciation to the radio stations CKDA and CJVI, the Times and the Colonist, the Acme Press for donating the programs, and to all the local stores who gave us advertising and who handled programs for the show.

Thanks are given to members of the armed forces who were given free invitations, responded in large numbers and showed their appreciation in no uncertain manner. Special thanks to the Odeon Theatre.

To all who helped in any manner I say many thanks, it was a good job well done by good Victorians.

Criticism of Nursing Homes

Please allow me space in which to comment on the letter by Ellen F. Macneil, in which she so highly praises our nursing homes, and tells of the loving care and attention given to elderly people in these institutions.

My experience is limited, so I do not wish to condemn all nursing homes or so-called private hospitals.

But I am still grieving the loss of a loved one whose death was hastened through a fall, suffered by the cruel, gross neglect of two women, employed as nurses in a Victoria private hospital. This institution enjoys a good reputation, and is well spoken of, at least by people who have never been patients there. Fear, not love and sympathy, rule the helpless elderly patients in this place.

The food is, or was nine months ago, poor, coarse, and totally unsuited to the needs of many inmates, who needed light nourishing, easily digested diet. Nursing attention was wholly inadequate and was usually given grudgingly, and often with taunts and scoldings.

Apparently, judging by the comments of Ellen F. Macneil, someone has said "most nursing homes are nightmares to old people" and suggested an investigation.

Is there a possibility that the government will investigate conditions in B.C. nursing homes? I doubt it.

Diplomats in the Front Line

By WALTER LIPPMANN From Washington

THERE was news from Belgrade last week which provides a concrete example of what it means to say that the right way to carry on a policy of liberation is not by war, not solely or mainly by propaganda and subversion, but by diplomacy.

The news came through Mr. Jack Raymond, of "The New York Times". For some weeks Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey have been working out a Balkan entente for mutual assistance. They are succeeding.

They are succeeding, and now they are planning to issue an invitation, addressed particularly to Bulgaria and to Albania, to make themselves independent of Moscow and to join this Balkan entente.

We have here, I venture to say, a good example of the art of political warfare.

The fundamental principle of political warfare is to offer the nation at which it is directed real alternatives—the one which you want it to choose being more attractive than the one you do not want it to choose.

In this case Bulgaria, which is a restless captive of the Moscow empire, has a common frontier with Yugoslavia on the west, with Greece on the south, with Turkey on the southeast. Its northern frontier, on the other hand, is with Romania, another captive. Albania has no land connection with the Soviet orbit. Its only neighbors are Yugoslavia and Greece and on the sea it is open to the ships of the Atlantic community.

The situation, then, is one in which Bulgaria, and even more easily Albania, could follow the example of Tito. Bulgaria could adhere to the alliance of its Balkan neighbors and be insured against Soviet military reprisals by the guarantee of the United States and its partners in NATO.

The invitation to Bulgaria could be accompanied by an unequivocal declaration guaranteeing the Balkan entente against aggression.

To create this condition of real choices—to provide Bulgaria with this concrete alternative—is to use diplomacy, as it can and should be used, to wage the cold war.

It is only when such real alternatives have been set up by diplomacy that propaganda and clandestine operations have anything substantial and effective to work with. Until the diplomatic structure has been created, it is no use shouting at the Bulgars that freedom is better than tyranny and that the Stalinist empire is exploiting them brutally. They know that.

What they have first to be shown is how without suicidal risk they can work themselves free of it.

In the case of Bulgaria, the invitation to join Yugoslavia, which has already gotten free of Moscow, is bound to evoke a deep, though one may hope not too sudden or too open a response. For

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Countries friendly to the United States are grumbling because President Eisenhower's administration has given no hint of its policies on explosive issues in the United Nations general assembly, which reconvenes Feb. 24.

They foresee a necessity for them to make snap decisions on vital items such as Korea. They note a possibility of American defeats and Russian propaganda advantages in the unprecedented situation.

Heavy pro-American majorities in previous sessions of the 60-country assembly, they maintain, have been won by a combination of two factors: U.S. policy was generally approved by the majority of the free world for independent reasons, and specific courses of action were drawn up after exhaustive consultations among many countries.

UNITED FRONT

The U.S. delegation had, and still has, members whose primary task has been to coax, explain and exhort support for a united front.

The month before an assembly session had previously been hectic, with friendly delegations huddling and cables shooting to home governments for instructions.

Now, with the assembly opening in 13 days, the U.S. mission has received no instructions from Washington and its "persuasion boys" have not begun work.

Some delegates privately are disturbed. They say they are

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House was asked Wed.

Looking into political history, she noted other new parties have sprung up overnight, often under varying names to suit the personal ambitions of the particular opportunist of the moment," but have soon gone into the political limbo.

"And history will repeat itself, and the Liberal party will come back stronger than ever, despite the wishful thinking of temporary dwellers in ivory towers."

New Mat Promotion To Begin Saturday

Professional wrestling has blossomed into a second promotion in the city.

Lionel Speller has announced that the Victoria Athletic Club will present weekly Saturday night shows in the Lower Ballroom of the Crystal Garden.

Weekly mat cards are at present being held under the promotion of Ken Williamson on Thursday nights at the Victoria Ballroom.

Purpose of the promotion, says Speller, is to provide funds for the local club which caters to 17 wrestlers and several weightlifters under the co-direction of Dave Anderson.

At the outset Speller will promote professional shows featuring wrestlers from Vancouver, Port Angeles, Bellingham and the local club. Amateur shows are included in the club's future plans.

Speller also said he hopes to eventually hold a B.C. championship series in two divisions—160 pounds and under, and 185 pounds and over.

Featured on Saturday night's opening card starting at 8:30 will be Chief Thunderbird and Nick Harris in the main event. Benny Loughren will meet CPO Goodwin of the Royal Canadian Navy in the semi-main event with Steve Jossel clashing with Dave Fye and Dick Watson meeting Bing Quon in the preliminaries.

The lower lounge of the Crystal will accommodate 400 persons.

Howe Fails In Bid for 200th Goal

Detroit 2, New York 2
A double jinx held good in New York Wednesday night.

Detroit Red Wings, who lead the National Hockey League by five points, haven't won a game against the tail-end New Yorkers since Lorne Gump Worsley replaced the injured Chuck Rayner in the Ranger nets January 7.

The best the defending league champions could do was a 2-2 tie before 8,469 fans. A third-period goal by Johnny Wilson gave the Red Wings the tie and ran Detroit's unbeaten string to eight.

The second jinx affected Gordie Howe, Detroit's star right-winger and leading point-getter in the league. In the four previous meetings in New York this season, Gordie has been able to score only one goal, mostly due to the effective checking of Eddie Kulkman.

The 24-year-old Howe was shooting for his 200th tally of his NHL career, which began when he was 18, and his 40th of the year. The best he could do was garner an assist on a goal by linemate Ted Lindsay.

It was Howe's 72nd point of the season and Lindsay's 53rd. NO. 22

Paul Ronty passed to Wally Hergesheimer, who scored his 22nd goal of the season for New York's second tally. Nick Mickoski got the first.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—President Bob Brown of the Western International Baseball League warned today that major league television would kill baseball if allowed to continue operating in minor league territory.

Echoing a warning voiced recently in the U.S. Senate by Senator Edwin Johnson of Colorado, president of the western league, Brown said "something will have to be done about major league television operating in the bush league territory."

"That sort of thing will not only ruin minor league baseball but will kill the very roots of the sport," he said in an interview.

Appreciation Night for City Ice Fans

Fan appreciation night is coming to the Commercial Hockey League Monday night and with it approximately 30 prizes.

Mayor Claude Harrison and the Kerrisdale Wheelers.

Topping the galaxy of gifts is either a man's or woman's suit. Others include scrips, a half-ton of coal and an ice-cream cake.

Mayor Harrison, honorary vice-president of the league, will draw for some of the prizes.

Kerrisdale Wheelers will again attempt to pick up a game with Individual Cleaners.

Two weeks ago Wheelers were scheduled to meet Cleaners but were unable to show because fog made flying conditions impossible.

Wheelers and Individuals will meet in the feature contest at 9 while Merchants meet Army in the curtain-raiser at 7:30.

Monday night's action will mark the final night of league play. Playoffs commence Feb. 23.

The proposed playoff series between the winner of Victoria and Vancouver leagues is almost settled. The proposed series will be a best-of-three affair at Memorial Arena.

How Kins Hope to Beat Alberni

By DENNY BOYD

The wheels in the basketball section of Basher Jackson's brain are spinning at a dizzy rate these days as he attempts to equate the potentiality of his Victoria Kins against the downright power of the Alberni Athletics.

With the senior A basketball finals between the hot rivals slated to start Friday night in Alberni, Jackson is scribbling out propositions like "two times John Clark equals X" with X no doubt representing the island title. However, as Kins have only one John Clark, this answer was thrown into the waste paper bucket long ago.

And then there is the trigonometrical theory that "Alberni minus Harry Kermod plus Bob Boyes over Twitter Hill equals Harry Buchanan to an unknown power." Broken down to its simplest figures, this means that if Kermod and Buchanan were bitten by tsetse flies, causing them to miss the game and Boyes can sit on the basket-thumping Hill, Howie Tooby will score flocks of his two-hand set shots.

Leaving the field of higher mathematics and consulting a tome on physics, Jackson was startled to find that Al Brown, when heated to a sufficient degree, exerts pressure in all directions, the most powerful of which lies in the direction of the opposition basket.

Out of all this welter of facts and figures, Basher will determine his line-up.

Although he has not yet decided on his starting five, he has disclosed these strategic facts:

1. Veteran Doug Peden will have the task of checking Kermod, Alberni's playing coach and chief play-maker.
2. Don Hendry will be assigned to check Brown. Alberni's import from Vancouver, and a 20-point threat in any game, can be counted on for double figures every game. Jackson will give the big scoring star a free hand on offense.

3. Boyes will guard Hill, as the little Alberni whiz kid is inclined to roam all over the floor. Jackson, who claims Boyes has been just about the steadiest two-way player on the club this year, hopes that Hill's often careless back-checking may be put to use against Alberni by breaking Boyes loose for his short pot shots.

4. Clark will be shooting any time he gets his hands on the strongest checkers on the club.

5. Bill Dobbie will be used extensively at centre. As the big rookie is beginning to show signs of development, he will play the post, allowing Clark to roam the wings.

That's the first game plan.

Activity Best Cure for Heartache

This is a chapter of the best-selling book, "The Power of Positive Thinking," by Dr. N. V. Peale. Success chapters will be published in The Times daily.

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE, D.D.

"Please give me a prescription for heartache."

This curious and rather pathetic request was made by a man who had been informed by his doctor that the feelings of disability of which he complained were not of a physical nature. His trouble lay in an inability to rise above sorrow. He was suffering from "an ache in his personality" as a result of grief.

Peale

His doctor advised him to secure spiritual consultation and treatment. So, continuing to use the terminology of medicine, he repeated the question, "Is there a spiritual prescription which will reduce my constant inner suffering? I realize that sorrow comes to everyone and I should be able to meet it the same as others. I have tried my best but find no peace." Again he asked with a sad, slow smile, "Give me a prescription for heartache."

There is indeed a "prescription" for heartache. One element in the prescription is physical activity. The sufferer must avoid the temptation to sit and brood. A sensible program which substitutes physical activity for such fruitless brooding reduces the strain in the area of the mind where we reflect, philosophize and suffer mental pain. Muscular activity utilizes another part of the brain and therefore shifts the strain and gives relief.

An old country lawyer who had a sound philosophy and much wisdom told a sorrowing woman that the best medicine for a broken heart is "to take a scrubbing brush and get down on your knees and go to work. The best medicine for a man," he declared, "is to get an ax and chop wood until, physically tired." While this is not guaranteed to be a complete cure for heartache, yet it does tend to mitigate such suffering.

Whatever the character of your heartache, one of the first steps is to resolve to escape from any defeatist situation which may have been created around you, even though it is difficult to do so, and return again to the normal course of your life. Get back into the main stream of life's activities. Take up your old associations. Form new ones. Get busy walking, riding, swimming, playing your system. Lose yourself in some worth-while project. Fill your days with creative activity and emphasize the physical aspect of activity. Employ healthy, mind-relieving business, but be sure that it is of a worth-while and constructive nature. Superficial escapism through feverish activity merely deadens pain temporarily and does not heal, as, for example, parties and drinking.

whom they associated as a couple or as a family. Therefore they avoid the old-time places and friends.

NO DISLOYALTY

I regard this as a serious mistake. A secret of curing heartache is to be as normal and natural as possible. This does not imply disloyalty or indifference. This policy is important in avoiding a state of abnormal grief. Normal sorrow is a natural process and its normality is evidenced by the ability of the individual to return to his usual pursuits and responsibilities and continue therein as formerly.

The deeper remedy for heartache, of course, is the curative comfort supplied by trust in God. Inevitably the basic prescription for heartache is to turn to God in an attitude of faith and empty the mind and heart to Him. Perseverance in the act of spiritual self-emptying will finally bring healing to the broken heart. This generation, which has suffered fully as much if not more heartache than people in preceding eras, needs to relearn that which the wisest men of all time have known, namely, that there is no healing of the pain suffered by humanity except through the benign ministrations of faith.

WEIGHT TOO MUCH

One of the greatest souls of the ages was Brother Lawrence, who said, "If in this life we would know the serene peace of Paradise, we must school ourselves in familiar, humble and loving converse with God." It is not advisable to attempt to carry the burden of sorrow and mental pain without divine help, for its weight is more than the personality can bear. The simplest and most effective of all prescriptions for heartache is to practice the presence of God. This will soothe the ache in your heart and ultimately heal the wound. Men and women who have experienced great tragedy tell us that this prescription is effective.

Another profoundly curative element in the prescription for heartache is to gain a sound and satisfying philosophy of life and death and deathlessness. For my part, when I gained the unshakable belief that there is no death, that all life is indivisible, that the here and hereafter are one, that time and eternity are inseparable, that this is one unobstructed universe, then I found the most satisfying and

MLA FOR DOUKHOBOR RIDING DEFENDS MAJORITY OF SECT

Rupert Haggan (CCF, Grand Forks-Greenwood), came to the defense of the majority of B.C. Doukhobors in his riding during his speech to the Legislature Wednesday.

At the same time he asked no leniency be shown members of the radical Sons of Freedom sect now in prison for arson. He said he was disturbed by rumors that Attorney-General Robert Bonner was recommending to Ottawa that some sentences upon Doukhobors be lessened.

"I hope the Doukhobors in prison will be made to serve the sentences meted out to them," he said. "If any one of them should get out after two years when he has been sentenced to seven, he will go back to the community feeling like a hero."

Mr. Haggan called for greater policing in Sons of Freedom trouble-spots but drew a marked line of distinction between members of that sect and other Doukhobors. He said most Doukhobors were "good-living people and as law-abiding as most of us here."

Saanich MLA Scores Bennett's 'Speed-Up'

Snowsell Tells Socrads' Their Silence In Debate Wrong; Asks New Island Ferry

Frank Snowsell, MLA of Saanich, vowed in the Legislature Wednesday that he and his CCF colleagues were not going to be rushed during the current legislative sitting.

In a lengthy speech, he hit out at Premier Bennett for trying to rush the business of the House and hauled the premier's supporters over the coals for sitting back quietly, instead of entering into debate.

He said he thought the premier's idea for rushing the session was to enable him to "don his swallow tails and fly off to the Coronation."

That, said Mr. Snowsell, was not good enough.

"I resent this speed-up. The business of the people is too important to be rushed."

Addressing the private members of the government, he charged them with failing in their responsibility to the constituents and to the people of the whole province for remaining mum during Throne Speech debate.

He said the premier had taken upon himself a grave responsibility in asking his followers not to express their thoughts.

"Are they afraid?" Mr. Snowsell demanded. "Is the premier afraid that they may say something out of line?"

He wondered if the premier feared that some of the government members might express anti-Semitic views or opposition to United Nations "as some of his followers have done elsewhere."

He likened the premier's ways to those of a dictator. "Italy had her Benito," he declared. "B.C. can get along without her Benetto."

Describing his constituency as "a lovely, little peninsula," he went on to discuss all matters of importance in that area.

Among other things, he stressed the need for a fast ferry service from the end of the Saanich peninsula to the mainland. Such a ferry link, he said, would cut two hours off the Vancouver-Victoria run.

Referring to Saanich Indian reserves, he demanded adequate fire protection be provided there. He made specific mention to the fire last year which claimed the lives of two infants.

"Jack Ketch" means the same as "public hangman" in England, where Ketch was a notorious executioner.

The Provincial Public Works Department is considering adopting the "Thetis Lake Route" for the second section of Victoria's new Island Highway outlet instead of widening the existing highway. Times' sketch, above, shows entire route of the new outlet, including the first 4.5-mile section now under construction. The new highway starts near the intersection of Regina Avenue and Douglas Street, parallels the south side of the CNR mostly along Battleford Avenue to Portage Road. It then crosses Helmcken Road at the top of Vickery Road and on to the northern end of Burnside Road near the Island Highway. That is the end of the first section. From here, instead of following the existing highway to Langford Lake, the second section may branch off through new territory, south of Thetis Lake and Florence Lake to a point behind Langford School. This proposed route is shown in dotted lines on the sketch. From the school, the road would follow the same route originally planned through a "draw" near Langford Lake, cutting out all the twisting road beside the lake. This highway would rejoin the existing road near the Chicken Coop Restaurant and carry on to Goldstream. The Thetis Lake route is one-tenth of a mile shorter than the 6.4-mile route following the present highway. The cost would be greater, however. The road will be a Trans-Canada Highway project for which the federal government pays one-half. It will have 24 feet of pavement and 10-foot verges.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

There is quite a ruction going on about the proposed demolition of the old girls' Central School.

Well, it is none of my business, but I do not think they should tear down the old girls' Central School.

If it were the young girls' school, or even the middle-aged girls' school, it wouldn't be so bad; but it would be cruel indeed to tear down the old girls' school, and leave the old girls without a roof over their heads.

It won't be long before Lent is here, and people will be busy trying to think of things to give up.

Most people will eventually emerge with a Lenten sacrifice of about the same calibre as a resolve from me to stop beating my Favorite Wife.

(The only time I ever beat her was at cribbage, and I had to cheat a little, at that.)

However, the reason I mention Lent here is, I happened to be thinking wistfully how nice it would be if all people gave up killing each other for Lent.

Perhaps with 40 days of genuine peace, people would enjoy it so much, they'd insist on it permanently.

Some of the opposition members do not seem to appreciate Premier Bennett's so-called "speed-up" policy in the House.

If it becomes too unpopular in the legislative assembly, the policy would be a howling success in almost any restaurant.

I see where they've installed another traffic signal which tells you what to do.

At Humboldt and Government Streets, there is a new signal which is not content with the traditional green, red and amber; it also has a light which tells you to "walk."

I realize this is a very efficient signal, and a credit to the city of Victoria; but somehow, I resent it.

I do not like being commanded to "walk."

Perhaps I am not in the mood to walk. Perhaps I just want to teeter back and forth on my heels, with my thumbs hooked into my suspenders, watching the girls in the Tourist Bureau smile at the passing tourists.

But if I stand at the corner of Government and Humboldt Streets, within a few seconds, the light will flash at me, and tell me to walk.

And I will have to walk, or no doubt I will be given a ticket for overtime not-walking.

And I thought this was a free country.

The unsuccessful hitchhiker (I am told) believes the automobile is only a passing thing.

Highway Route Change Rapped

$4,000,000 Tourist Business Fears Loss of Trade By Gagliardi's Plan

Majority of Island Highway business men are opposed to the second section of Victoria's new highway outlet by-passing them, but several said today they would approve if the government promised to ban commercial development along the new Thetis Lake route.

Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi said Wednesday he is seriously contemplating building the second section, between the northern end of Burnside Road and Langford, through virgin territory south of Thetis and Florence Lakes, instead of merely widening the existing highway.

Auto court owners, the hardest hit by the new proposal, are expected to meet Friday night to discuss the matter. They may decide to seek an interview with the minister. All are members of the Victoria and District Auto Courts and Resorts Association.

Robert Ball, Wedgewood Auto Court, Colwood, admitted the Thetis Lake route is the most logical from a long-term view. He felt he could agree with the route if the government ensured no new auto courts would be allowed on it.

"If suitable signs, pointing the way to the existing auto courts, were placed at the junction of the old and new roads, I think we'd be all right," he said. "But I think the existing auto courts should be protected. After all, there's $4,000,000 invested in auto courts on this highway."

Ken Miller, owner-manager of Colwood Service Station, was greatly disturbed by the suggestion of a new road. He advocated improving and widening the present road to four lanes.

"Our grandfathers had more foresight and gumption than anybody today," he declared. "They built roads for buggies but they had foresight enough to leave a big allowance to provide for widening."

"This road we have now has an allowance of from 66 to 80 feet."

Mrs. T. J. Dolan, Coldwood Motor Court, considered widening of the present highway would be more sensible.

Mrs. J. G. Nordin, president of the auto courts association, agreed with this. If the government wouldn't agree to a complete ban of auto courts on the new section, she felt it should at least not permit any for five years.

But Mrs. George Barr, Royal Auto Court, opposite the old Colwood Golf Club clubhouse, was dead against the latest proposal.

"I think there's political pull somewhere. It's a sellout," she said. "It would be much cheaper to widen the existing highway, instead of going all out there through the Thetis Lake district."

Mark Snider, of the Casa Linda Tourist Court, situated on the present highway, near Colwood corner, said the new proposal was "not right."

He estimated cost of improving the present road would be only one-third the cost of an entirely new road. He said the saving would go a long way towards fixing up other roads on the Island, particularly the road to Sooke.

"I'm naturally against this new idea," he declared. "There is heavy traffic through here and the road will need fixing anyway."

Mrs. D. Gillingham, of the Avonlea Bungalow Court, took a similar stand.

Her reaction: "It would be far more economical to fix up the present road. They're already going to the trouble of buying property on both sides of the road. And it really needs widening."

She conceded a change in highway route would affect her business.

"We're not happy about it," she summed up. "I don't know if we can do anything about it but we certainly would like to."

Mrs. B. Harrison, manageress of the Colwood Coffee Bar, said: "I don't feel particularly good about the suggestion even though we probably wouldn't be particularly affected. Most of our business comes from truckers and army personnel. We might lose some of the truckers, of course."

Investigation of a remark by Mrs. Kay Gardiner at a Victoria Peace Council Communist meeting here Wednesday night, that a Canadian soldier had been ordered to shoot five Korean children, has been asked by P. G. Hartnell, 600 Douglas Street.

Mrs. Gardiner was one of three Vancouver speakers who gave reports on the Asian-Pacific Peace Conference in Peiping, and the Vienna Peace Congress.

Mr. Hartnell said he had wired to Justice Minister Stuart Garson asking whether the remark was a "slur or misinformation."

"Mrs. Gardiner read her speech from a written copy," Mr. Hartnell said. "There must be some way that such an accusation can be investigated."

He said Mrs. Gardiner told of speaking with a soldier named "Harry" who said he had been ordered by his major in Korea to shoot five children.

"I asked her if this soldier was in the Canadian Army and wearing a Canadian uniform," Mr. Hartnell said. "She answered 'yes.'"

Mrs. Gardiner spoke mainly in support of a "cease fire" in Korea and her husband, Ray Gardiner, reviewed current events as they affect the Far East.

Elgin Neish, chairman, of Victoria, said a "cease fire" in Korea would broaden markets for Canadian goods by allowing trade with China.

The meeting was held in Newstead Hall.

SERVING WITH Canadian troops in Korea is Staff Sergeant John Sawicki, of 980 Client, who left his home here recently for embarkation in an American troopship. He will be quartermaster with the RCHA.

Young Man Faces High Court Trial On Morals Charge

Gordon B. Hodges, about 24, no fixed address, was committed for trial by Magistrate H. C. Hall following a preliminary hearing in city police court today on a charge of, wholly or in part, living off the earnings of prostitution.

Detectives Louis Callan and Norman Bath told the court they stood outside the door of Room 304 of the Station Hotel, Store and Cormanor, on the night of Feb. 6 and heard conversation between the accused and Robertha Roberts, 18.

The detectives said they heard a man's voice ask Miss Roberts if she was packed. She had replied that she was and witnesses said the male voice said: "We don't want to get to the boat too soon as we'll lose that time to make money."

Attractive Miss Roberts is now awaiting sentence on a prostitution charge. "She had earlier pleaded guilty."

Soo Long, 64, of 503 Fisgard, Wednesday pleaded guilty to a charge of being found in a disorderly house and was fined $25.

Unknown Ship Cuts Huge Booms Adrift

Logs Lost Off Trial Island Found In Swift Hunt; Submarine Near

A steamer which cut a tow line and loosed 1,000,000 feet of boomed logs in Juan de Fuca Strait early today caused a frantic air-sea search which lasted until almost noon.

Lawyer Seeks Compensation For Lost Cook

A young Danish girl who was brought from Copenhagen to work as a cook-general in a lawyer's home at Nanaimo, is the centre of an appeal now being heard before the B.C. Court of Appeal here.

The appellant is Frank S. Cunliffe, Q.C., who is seeking to have the Appeal Court set aside a decision of County Court Judge J. B. Boyd rendered in favor of William Cross, a Nanaimo school teacher.

The lawyer claims that Mr. Cross failed to live up to an agreement to pay him a sum of $380 for releasing the Danish girl from her contract as a cook. The sum represented travelling and other expenses incurred in bringing her to Nanaimo.

The Danish girl, Eva Mandrup Peterson, entered into an agreement to work in the capacity of a cook for a period of two years, Mr. Cunliffe claimed his counsel, H. W. Davey, Q.C. The girl worked at the lawyer's home from Aug. 11, 1951 to March 31, 1952.

Mr. Cross denies the allegations of the lawyer. He alleges there was no agreement. The case is continuing.

The logs, in three booms, were located two miles off Point Angeles at 11.40 a.m. after hours of combing of the coastal waters by HMCS Sault Ste. Marie, RCAF and U.S. planes and American Coast Guard cutters.

The drifting booms had menaced navigation in the straits since 4.30 this morning, when an unidentified ship sliced the towline off Trial Island.

The three booms were part of two large tows by the Island Tug and Barge Company here. Department of Transport authorities broadcast an alarm to all coastal shipping as soon as the incident was reported. They stated that first reports described the steamer as an oil tanker.

The only deep-sea ship known to have passed through Juan de Fuca Strait around 4 a.m. was the Panamanian freighter Aurora, outbound from Vancouver.

Coast Guard and Navy ships joined the search after notification from the tug company. HMCS Sault Ste. Marie was diverted from post-refit trials.

It is believed that a U.S.N. submarine was exercising in the strait this morning and some concern was felt on this account.

The tug Island Booster was dispatched to pick up the tow when it was spotted.

Raids Gross $160 in Loot

Burglars got $160 worth of cigarettes and other articles when they broke into the Tillamook Outdoor Theatre and Wheeley's Grocery Store at 2904 Tillamook Road during the night.

The theatre's centre confectionery section was broken into by smashing the glass in a door. Bill Ward, manager, estimated cigarettes and chocolate bars stolen were worth $150.

There was no money on the premises.

In the Wheeley's Grocery break-in, front door was forced. About $10 worth of cigarettes was stolen.

Retail Clerks Support Wednesday Opening

Union Favors Six-Day Shopping If Five-Day Work Week in Force

Victoria retail clerks are not in favor of the present closing of stores here on Wednesdays, according to John Aubrey, city Retail Clerks' Union representative.

Challenging a statement Wednesday by P. C. McEwan, chairman of the Five-Day Action Committee of Victoria retail clerks, that store employees are strongly opposed to Wednesday opening, Mr. Aubrey said his union favors a six-day shopping week for the city provided clerks work only a five-day 40-hour week.

"We have no right to tell a storekeeper how to run his business. Let them stay open as long as they see fit. Whatever is good economy for the employer will benefit the store workers also and the shopping public at large," Mr. Aubrey said.

"That's an expression of opinion of the Island branch of International Retail Clerks' Union (I.R.C.U.) including city local 1518, Grocery and Food Clerks' Union and Local 279, Department Store Clerks' Union," he pointed out.

"Mr. McEwan represents no union. He has merely formed this Five-Day Action group on his own hook," Mr. Aubrey said.

Other developments in the controversial open Wednesday issue included:

(1) Hugh Francis, chairman of the Retail Merchants Group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce announced members would meet Monday, Feb. 23, to discuss the subject.

Mr. Francis pointed out that a poll of city merchants on the six-day shopping week a year ago showed a majority against it.

"But sentiment now seems to be swinging the other way. Vancouver Retail Merchants' Association in a recent poll of members found 65 per cent in favor of open Wednesdays. We expect to get a valuable expression of opinion from our membership at our meeting next Monday," Mr. Francis said.

(2) G. Conway Parrott, chairman of the tourist trade group of the city chamber, said strong support for open Wednesday's voiced by his membership indicated a widespread feeling that Wednesday closing was damaging Victoria's tourist trade.

Admiral's Wife Will Christen Escort Vessel

Vancouver Hull 'Finishing' Here

The third new anti-submarine escort built for the Royal Canadian Navy, and the second to be launched in British Columbia, will be christened February 19 by Mrs. E. R. Mainguy, wife of Vice-Admiral Mainguy, chief of naval staff, at Burrard Drydock Company, North Vancouver.

After the launching, the hull will be towed to Victoria, where Yarrow's Ltd. will finish construction and install machinery, armament and electronic equipment.

The new ship will be christened HMCS Fraser—carrying on the name of a Canadian destroyer called into action at the outbreak of the Second World War, and lost in collision with a Royal Navy cruiser at the evacuation of Dunkirk.

A sister-ship to Fraser is under construction at Victoria Machinery Depot's Outer Wharf plant.

Mrs. Mainguy, who will sponsor the ship, is at present in Victoria, visiting her mother, Mrs. W. C. Nichol, 914 St. Charles. Her husband is in Korea on an inspection of Canadian destroyers on duty there.

He will be represented at the ceremony by Commodore Kenneth F. Adams, acting flag officer, Pacific Coast command.

Rejected Suitor to Stand Trial In 'Accidental' Death of Fiancee

KITCHENER, Ont. (BUP)—A rejected suitor awaited trial today for the murder of his 17-year-old fiancée after a medico-legal expert testified against his claim that the slaying was accidental.

Kenneth Wiles, a 21-year-old carpenter, was remanded Wednesday for trial at the supreme court sittings, February 23, in the shotgun slaying of pretty Marie Huras whom he was to have married in June.

Provincial medico-legal expert Prof. Joslyn Rogers testified that the girl was shot through the head with a sawed-off .22 rifle. Wiles had told police that a full-length .22 rifle discharged accidentally in the front seat of his car while he was driving his fiancée to work January 27.

The girl, who had returned Wiles' engagement ring only two days previously, died a few hours after being rushed to a Toronto hospital.

Rogers said powder burns on a kerchief worn by the girl were of a type that would be caused by a sawed-off gun and not a full-length rifle. He also said the shot could not have come from a rifle which was standing upright between the girl and Wiles as Wiles had claimed, unless the girl's head was bent to one side.

A few hours after Wiles was arrested, police found a sawed-off rifle on a nearby street which they believed was the murder weapon. Rogers said a piece of the gun barrel was "ample indication" it matched the sawed-off gun found in the street. He also said that a cartridge found in the car was fired from the sawed-off weapon.

Private Shipyard Not Supplanted On Navy Jobs, Official Declares

Assignment of conversion work on HMCS Crescent to HMC Dockyard, Esquimalt, does not indicate a trend toward removing similar major RCN contracts from private shipyards.

"We have to keep our dockyard employees busy to retain skilled personnel," Capt. J. B. Caldwell, assistant chief of naval technical services, Ottawa, said in Victoria Wednesday.

"There are a great many new ship contracts in the hands of private firms," he said. "One of the main reasons the Crescent job went to dockyard here is the time, fast, and economical major refit done on HMCS Cayuga."

Work on Cayuga, which will be recommissioned Feb. 23, will have been completed in 7½ months—less than half the time taken at Eastern yards for similar re-armament of other tribal class destroyers.

"Your west coast dockyard also did the job at less cost," Capt. Caldwell added. "This despite wage levels here being one-third higher than on the east coast. The speed with which the job was completed made the difference."

Capt. Caldwell estimated cost of conversion of HMCS Algonquin, the prototype of Canada's new Mark 4 escorters, at $3,000,000 in time and material charges, plus electronic equipment and armament drawn from stores.

Capt. Caldwell, who is accompanied by W. Cunningham of the defense production board, will be in Victoria until Saturday. It is his first visit here in more than a year.

TAX REDUCTION WOULD DROP CIGARETTE PRICE

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Harry McKelvie, secretary-manager of the British Columbia Tobacco and Candy Jobbers' Association, predicted today a reduction in taxes on cigarettes will be contained in next week's federal budget.

McKelvie, recently returned to Vancouver from an Ottawa meeting with Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, said jobbers were convinced that cigarette prices would go down.
However, he said he did not know, and declined to estimate how large a cut it might be.

McKelvie said that he was "given no definite answer, but came away with the impression there definitely would be a reduction in the cigarette tax." He said wholesale tobacco men had suggested a price of 30 cents for a package of 20 cigarettes.

SAANICH PROPERTY OWNERS
SUMBERG OF BUILDINGS

By-law No. 990 finally passed by the Municipal Council on the 26th day of January, 1933, requires the owner of every building other than outbuildings to affix a street number to each building not later than the 27th day of March, 1933. In the event that the building is a greater distance than 50 feet from the street, or is obscured by a hedge or fence, a duplicate street
number shall be affixed at the entrance from the street.

The correct number may be obtained from the office of the Municipal Engineer, Royal Oak, Telephone G 3321 or Colquhoun 91.

When asking for a street number, the legal description of the property must be given, and in the case of a building on a large parcel of land, the location of the building on the lot must also be given.

If the building is on a corner lot,
the street upon which the building faces must be given. Any street number in use which does not conform to the official street numbering plans must be changed upon written notice to do so. Rural mail box numbers cannot be used as building numbers.

Failure to comply with any of the requirements of the said By-law No. 990, will cause the owner to be liable to a fine of $10.00, and the continuance of any breach after conviction shall be deemed a new offence for each day
the same continues, and shall be punishable accordingly.

9 Passengers Rescued From Burning Ship

Explosion Rocks
Craft Off Yokohama

TOKYO (AP)—Nine
American passengers, including seven women, and two injured crew members were taken off the burning freighter President Pierce
today after an explosion
rocked the vessel about 100 miles southeast of Yokohama.

Late reports said the crippled ship of the American President Lines was limping toward Yokohama, escorted by two U.S.
Navy ships. A raging fire that guttered three of its holds was extinguished after a battle that lasted several hours.

Headquarters of the U.S. Military Sea Transport Service said the passengers and crew members were transferred to the Barrett, an MSTS vessel, while other members of the crew battled the flames deep in the holds.

The Barrett and the Navy transport George Clymer accompanied the stricken vessel toward Yokohama. She ships are expected to reach port about 2 a.m. Friday.

MSTS said the signal facilities and compasses of the Pierce were destroyed.

The Navy said it had no details on other possible injured, what caused the explosion and fires, or how the flames were extinguished.

The fire broke out about noon. Rescue ships and planes rushed to the scene.

Final settlement, however,
will depend on the outcome of present negotiations between Pacific Stage and B.C. Electric drivers. The board expects to pay a slight premium for school bus drivers because of the part-time nature of their work.

COURTENAY—Employees of Nib Johnson Motors went on strike Wednesday evening when the proprietor refused to sign a contract with Courtenay Local 385 of the Automotive Maintenance Workers' Union (TLC).

Mr. Johnson claimed his employees would gain little from signing, and that he paid higher wages than the union scale.

Tom Gooderham said employees had no complaints, but that Mr. Johnson would give no reason for not signing the contract.

CAMPBELL RIVER—Due to mild weather and lack of snow, MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd. will start work at their logging operations Monday. They plan to engage local men and transport them from Campbell River and district on their own buses.

belief that a doe will have

after it has been touched by human hands.

He said observations by himself and others have proved the belief to be wrong.

Howe 'Roughs Up' President
Of Canadian Sugar Company

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe, a notably blunt man, used a broad-axe in the Commons Wednesday in an attack on W. J. McGregor, president of the Canadian and Dominion Sugar Company, and on his firm.

In as tough a diatribe against an individual as veteran House observers have heard in many years, Mr. Howe roughed up the Chatham, Ont., industrialist off and on for a half hour
after accusing him and his company of steaming up a "pressure campaign" to have the government stop import of Cuban refined sugar into Canada.

Later, he said Mr. McGregor and his company circularized
the beet-growing industry to take part in a "pressure campaign on the government to stop bringing about legislation to stop the import of Cuban refined sugar."

"I am happy to say," Mr.
Howe declared, "that the rest of the industry, being men of integrity, refused to have anything to do with that campaign."

"However, Canada and Dominion Sugar Company then started the most aggressive pressure campaign that I have ever known of in my 17 years as a member of this House."

This included, Mr. Howe said, cables to himself in various South American countries.

"It happens that Mr. Mc-Gregor is a man with a limited vocabulary, and he repeated certain phrases," the minister said.
"Those phrases are all in his cables."

"In the meantime, the offices
received telegrams and letters, obviously all written by Mr. Mc-Gregor or his staff, and signed by parish priests, by organizations of growers, by individuals and by various other people."

Island's Road Rights Sought by City MLA

Mrs. Nancy Hodges (L. Victoria) Wednesday supplied Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi with some facts and figures regarding Vancouver Island's case for more roads.

Speaking in the Legislature's Throne Speech debate, Mrs. Hodges said on the basis of per capita need the Island could ask for 2,000 more miles of road, but actually only asks for 98 miles at this time.

She recalled the minister told a Chamber of Commerce meeting last year the Island would get its "just share."

Here are Mrs. Hodges' arguments for more roads:

The Island has more than 18 per cent of the province's population; density of motor vehicles per square mile is over nine times that of the Mainland, and over 20 per cent of the vehicle registrations come from the Island; Island motorists pay 20 per cent of the total gasoline tax; the area of the Island is 1,277th of B.C., yet produces 1-9th of all the wealth of the province.

"Despite all these special claims this Island has only 2,188 miles of road—less than 10 per cent of all B.C. roads," Mrs. Hodges said.

She also noted the urgent need for the extension of 14 to 17 miles of road westward from Jordan River to Port Renfrew, and then inland to connect with the Island Highway either via Cowichan Lake or Shawnigan Lake.

Wisconsin was the first state to adopt an unemployment compensation act, becoming effective in 1934.

NATURAL GAS RESERVE VAST, FIGURES SHOW

British Columbia has 18 producing natural gas wells capable of producing 152,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

This information was revealed Wednesday when Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers filed answers to questions placed on the Legislature's order paper by Rupert Haggen (CCF, Grand Forks-Greenwood).

The minister said the province's total proven gas reserves are 2,000,000,000,000 feet.

The government, he said, has not issued any licenses to produce natural gas, but permits to explore for it now cover 31,000,000 acres. Permits total 382; 234 to companies and 148 to individuals.

Replying to another question, Mr. Sommers said B.C. has no producing oil wells.

Parent Teacher Body Suggests Censorship

OTTAWA (CP)—Government censorship of publications before distribution has been suggested as a method to control the sale of indecent literature.

The suggestion was made Wednesday in a brief to a Senate committee prepared by the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation. The federation's brief was read by Senator J. J. Hayes Doane, committee chairman, on behalf of Mrs. C. W. Mellish of Vancouver who was unable to appear.

"We would be hesitant in advocating steps to legislate in matters of morals . . . We strongly oppose anything that savors of government trying to dictate to individual conscience."

Any steps taken by Parliament should contain "adequate safeguards . . . to assure the continued freedom of the press." Measures should be instituted for the prohibition of the publication, sale or distribution only of that literature which is commonly classified as obscene, lewd and vulgar.

It suggested:

1. A government committee or board examine Canadian publications before distribution. Appeals from the board's decision to a supreme court judge should be provided with the onus on the printer to prove the publication suitable for distribution.

2. An adequate staff in the customs department examining samples of shipments of periodicals and pocket books.

3. Insertion of a clear definition of obscenity in the Criminal Code.

4. Banning of pictures on the covers of paper-bound books, except magazines.

Auto Dealers Ask Taxes Cut

VANCOUVER (CP)—Auto mobile dealers here want federal excise taxes on cars cut.

Dealers at the annual convention of the provincial Motor Dealers' Association have passed a motion to ask Finance Minister Abbott to cut the levy.

President Clarke Simpkins said in his annual report that the average new Canadian car carries $400 in direct federal taxes, compared with about $100 in the United States.

He said cars are treated as fur coats and jewelry for tax purposes despite "the vital role of autos in helping people make a living."

The convention decided to set up a manager's office here and appoint a full-time manager.

Civil Service Insulted, CCF Critic Claims

Premier Bennett was charged in the Legislature Wednesday with painting the B.C. civil service as "a bunch of drunken bums."

The charge was laid at the premier's doorstep by CCFer Rupert Haggen, from Grand Forks-Greenwood. The slow-speaking member made his assertion in referring to the premier's ban on Christmas parties in government offices.

Mr. Haggen said the premier used "a nasty approach" in putting forward his edict. The speaker claimed there was a "nice way and a nasty way" to do everything.

He said it would have been far nicer if the premier had circularized all government offices, informing civil servants that he did not want staff parties. He said such a request would have been respected.

"Instead," Mr. Haggen declared, "he chose the nastiest way he could."

"The first I learned of his order was in a blast over the radio. And that's how many government workers heard of it. He said there were to be no parties and that if there were, those who violated his order would be subject to instant dismissal. In plain words, he said they would be 'canned'."

"It caused a lot of ill-feeling. A lot in the civil service felt they'd been classed as a bunch of drunken bums. They felt that and they resented it. It was a full week later, in the eastern interior, before any official notices about no parties were received."

Only a portion of the ingredients exploded, indicating the extreme power of the bomb; the report said.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Western Canada Produce Association today reported many of its members are short of butter and said no relief is possible until the federal government releases more of its New Zealand and Canadian butter. A statement issued here said Western Canada prices have not gone up but will unless government action is taken.

Separate School Court Action Hinted

VANCOUVER (CP)—Archbishop W. M. Duke said today the B.C. Catholic Education Association will take its fight against "double taxation" of parochial schools to court if the Social Credit government does not grant financial assistance.

Times Flood Fund Reaches $20,362

New Relief Drives Started On Island; Duncan Total Near $1,000

Donations to the Victoria Daily Times Flood Relief Fund for British and European flood victims today reached a total of $20,362.

Included in the total was $50 from Victoria Automotive Maintenance Workers' Union Local 151 (TLC), first of the city's trade unions to contribute.

One of the most welcome $1 contributions came today from the Grade III class at Bank Street School, accompanied by the following letter:

"Our class won the $1 prize at the PTA meeting for having the most mothers and fathers at the meeting. We would like to give our $1 to the flood fund."

Flood funds are gathering force elsewhere on Vancouver Island and the mainland.

The Mayor's fund in Duncan has reached close to $1,000, including a $100 donation from the city council.

A tag day will be held in Nanaimo Saturday for flood relief, and Mayor George Muir said he believed the citizens would welcome a general drive for funds. The IOOE in Nanaimo already has a collection under way.

ALDERMEN VOTE TO SAVE SCHOOL

City Council Opposes Plan to Demolish Girls' Central School

City council today by a vote of 4 to 3 opposed demolition of the old Girls' Central School and requested that no contract be let for a proposed new school until a thorough study has been made of the situation.

Mayor Claude Harrison, who advocated the action, cast the deciding vote. Three aldermen were absent when it was taken at a meeting this afternoon.

The mayor said, in reply to a question from Ald. Waldo Skillings, that no resolution of the council is binding on the Greater Victoria School Board.

"It is just a request," he said. The mayor had asked also that a suggestion of Education Minister Tilly Roulston that a referendum vote be taken to decide the issue, be considered.

This, however, was not included in the motion passed. The motion was put by Ald. Robert Macmillan and seconded by Ald. Percy Schurrah.

Ald. Brent Murdoch and the mayor voted for the motion with Ald. Skillings, Ald. Frank Mulliner and Ald. Margaret Christie opposing.

A move by Ald. Skillings to have school board chairman Richard Reeve and Trustee Austin Curtis speak to the council, was ruled out of order by the mayor.

Ald. Skillings was ruled out of order a second time when he asked what the city's legal position was in passing such a resolution.

"That's not the question before us," snapped the mayor. "It's just to see if we can have this laid over until the minister of education has an opportunity to look into it."

"I'd still like my answer," said Ald. Skillings.

Ald. Mulliner asked: "Cannot the minister of education act on her own if she is so interested?"

Ald. Skillings, who was a member of the school board in 1945-46, traced the history of the present building plans and said there is a definite shortage of school accommodation.

"The Girls' Central School is only a small portion of the set-up. I feel we have been a little too hasty in our approach to this question."

Ald. Macmillan told Ald. Skillings: "Your duty lies with this council, not the school board."

"I take exception to that," countered Ald. Skillings, rising from his chair. "I'll not have any other alderman telling me my duty. I've always tried to look after the taxpayers' interests, but we must be fair."

These are the two issues that have been separating Britain and Egypt. Solution of both could go a long way toward ending Egypt in the proposed Middle East defense command being framed by the West.

The Sudan is a 1,000,000 square-mile area which Britain and Egypt have been running jointly since 1899. The agreement gives the 8,000,000 Sudanese the right to join Egypt, join the British Commonwealth or start an independent state.

Early elections for a parliament are planned.

As for the Suez Canal zone,

The 1,000,000-square-mile Sudan lies athwart the headwaters of the Nile. Under an 1899 agreement, Britain and Egypt have been running the country jointly.

It has become a source of friction between the two countries. The agreement now leaves only one point of major disagreement between Britain and Egypt—the Egyptian demand for evacuation of British troops from the Suez Canal zone.

The foreign secretary said that early elections will be held for a Sudanese parliament, adding:

"It is the intention that preparations for these elections should be put in hand at once."

The agreement further provides that during the transitional period the sovereignty of the Sudan should be kept in reserve for the Sudanese until self-determination is achieved.

"These notable developments have been warmly welcomed by the Sudanese themselves."

Trainmen Run Douk Territory 'Under Protest'

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A warning that any future raids on railway tracks by Doukhorbor terrorists might lead to strike action by the men who run the trains was issued here Wednesday night.

The warning came at a union meeting called to protest the lifting of the night curfew on operations of trains in the Canadian Pacific Railway's Kootenay division.

In the oils, New Superior traded at $3.50, and among industrials, Canadian West Lumber sold at $9 1/4.

British to Leave Suez Says Naguib

CAIRO (AP)—Britain and Egypt today signed an agreement covering the future of Sudan, and Premier Mohammed Naguib's office said evacuation of British troops from the Suez Canal has been agreed upon in principle.

These are the two issues that have been separating Britain and Egypt. Solution of both could go a long way toward ending Egypt in the proposed Middle East defense command being framed by the West.

SCHOOL COSTS FOR DISTRICT RISE SHARPLY

Boost Figures 14.94 Per Cent

School estimates for 1953, made known today by Greater Victoria School Board, are $2,398,136.52, an increase of $311,800 over the total of last year.

The increase amounts to 14.94 per cent.

Victoria city council heard at its meeting this afternoon that the city's 59.59 per cent share of the total on the basis of 1952 taxable values is $1,429,049.55, an increase of $177,089 over those of 1952.

Other municipalities and areas in School District No. 61 will be charged as follows:

Esquimalt	5.35%	$128,300.31
Oak Bay	15.15%	$363,317.68
Saanich	17.94%	$430,225.69

Huge Tides, Blizzards Worry UK

High Water Expected Tonight

LONDON (CP)—A blizzard raged over northern England and Wales today for the third successive day, cutting off more villages and bringing the worst traffic pile-up in years.

The blizzard also hit the Continent hard.

In the north of England, hundreds of cars and trucks lay buried under snow. At least 40 main highways and 200 secondary roads were blocked by snowdrifts up to 12 feet deep.

Farm workers struggled thigh-deep in drifts to rescue sheep. Watchers along the battered east coast looked for any signs that the North Sea was preparing to go on another rampage. The water level of the Thames and several other rivers rose during the morning, but not dangerously.

Gale winds closed ports in northeastern England, halting the movement of coal.

Twelve-foot waves broke over the seawall early today at Sutton-on-the-Sea, in the already-hard-hit Lincolnshire area, and water flowed ankle deep down the main street.

The "sandbagged wall held fast, however. Police said there was no immediate cause for alarm."

Eden Hails New Agreement

In London, Foreign Secretary Eden hailed the Sudan agreement as "a reasonable settlement of this question which has long bedeviled our relations with Egypt." Here in Cairo, Stevenson expressed belief the agreement "opens a new era in the greater mutual confidence between the two countries."

The terms and text of the agreement were announced simultaneously in Cairo, London and Khartoum.

The foreign secretary said that early elections will be held for a Sudanese parliament, adding:

"It is the intention that preparations for these elections should be put in hand at once."

The agreement further provides that during the transitional period the sovereignty of the Sudan should be kept in reserve for the Sudanese until self-determination is achieved.

"These notable developments have been warmly welcomed by the Sudanese themselves."

Frobisher to Survey Northern Resources

Hints of plans for another huge power and industrial development in far northern British Columbia and the Yukon territory were given at the annual meeting in Eastern Canada Tuesday night of Frobisher Ltd., the big Canadian exploration and development company.

Special funds have been voted by the company for what president Thayer Lindsley describes as a survey of water power resources in part of the Yukon territory.

According to information available here this is said to involve a diversion of the Yukon River to turn it into Dry Bay, Alaska, and in the process develop as high as 5,000,000 horsepower.

Mr. Lindsley did not divulge any details, but it is known that Ventures Ltd., parent company of Frobisher, has been working on the extraction of aluminum from clay, a process which would require vast amounts of electric power.

Only recently the Canadian government turned down a request of the Aluminum Company of Canada for water rights in the area for a new aluminum plant.

Mr. Lindsley said that a special meeting of Frobisher shareholders will be called within a few months to disclose the whole details of the plan.

He said: "It is hoped that within 10 months a full picture of the potential water power resources of the area will be obtained, and also an estimate made of the metallurgical uses to which such power can be put in connection with the expansion of the activities of Quebec Metallurgical Industries Ltd. (a Frobisher subsidiary.)"

Quebec Metallurgical Industries, according to reports, has developed a revolutionary method of smelting metals.

An Ontario experimental plant, it is reported, has been successful, and there is a chance the cost of aluminum, magnesium and other metals will be decreased greatly.

It is understood that the surveys will cover a project under which there would be two big dams, one at each end of Lake La Barge, and a tunnel turning the Yukon River into the Alsek River and carrying it out to Dry Bay, Alaska.

While it is too early to estimate what the overall project might entail, comparison with the $500,000,000 Alcan scheme indicates it might run as high as $1,000,000,000.

'WE WERE NEVER ALONE'

Mickey Rooney Says He Knew Pat But---

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Rooney's name popped up Wednesday from the past of call girl Pat Ward, but the pint-sized movie star said "we were never alone."

Miss Ward, a copper-haired 19-year-old, is star witness at the case society procuring trial of Minot "Mickey" Jelke.

Also mentioned as Miss Ward's acquaintances from the pre-Jelke days—when she was an already-tarnished belle of cafe society—comedian Joey Adams and a "well-known newspaper man"—not identified. Rooney and Adams both denied any more than casual meetings with her.

Another one-time acquaintance of the lithe self-admitted prostitute was said to be Joe Moore, once a champion skater.

Miss Ward's lawyer, J. Roland Sala, said her meetings with the men were "entirely proper."

The names of the men were mentioned outside of court by defense lawyer Sam Segal, who declined to name the newspaper man. He was asked:

"Did she say she knew them as customers?"

"We didn't speak of customers," Segal told reporters. "We asked her about people she knew."

Of Rooney, one of Hollywood's top box-office attractions for years, Segal said: "She said she knew him, that she had been out with him, had been to his apartment and had dinner with him."

Jelke, 23-year-old heir to an oleomargarine fortune, is on trial on charges of prostituting Miss Ward and other cafe society charmers for playboys who could afford up to $500 a night for their company.

Rooney was playing golf at Los Angeles when reporters lo-

MAYOR MOVES TO SAVE OLD SCHOOL

Urges Council to Back Referendum;
But School Board Plans Demolition

Mayor Claude Harrison today asked city council to approve a suggestion of Education Minister Tillie Rolston that a referendum vote be taken on the question of demolishing the old Girls' Central School.

He asked also passage of a resolution asking the school board to defer action on the demolition of the building to make way for construction of a new Central Junior High School until the question has been settled.

He took the action as the school board prepared to let a contract for razing the old school building and construction of the new.

Tenders have been opened for the new school and contract was expected to be awarded Monday night.

Despite the mayor's move, school board chairman Richard Reeve reiterated trustees have a mandate from the people to proceed with the work.

Just who would initiate any referendum by-law is not clear. The provincial government will not. The city cannot as the matter stands at present, according to Mayor Harrison. It is considered unlikely the board will.

PLANS TO PROCEED
"The people have already decided," said Tillie Rolston. "We have their mandate and intend to proceed by accepting a tender. We feel that is our legal position."

He said by-laws authorizing construction of Central and other schools were approved by big majorities. The vote in 1947 was 4,531 to 1,239 against, and in 1950 it was 1,630 in favor to 454 against.

Prior to council meeting Mayor Harrison said he would write a letter to the board "asking them to defer action until the matter is studied by the provincial department of education and also requesting a referendum."

"They should delay further until the matter is fully understood by the department of education," he said.

Mrs. Rolston, Wednesday, stated that if city officials and the school board could not agree on whether or not the old Girls' Central School should be demolished, the entire question should be submitted as a by-law for citizens to decide at the polls.

DEMOLITION NECESSARY
The school board contends demolition of the school—necessary to erect a new one—was already approved by the electorate.

The mayor feels the board should defer action since the publication of Mrs. Rolston's opinion.

He stated that the city could not apply for an injunction to stop construction of the school because the matter was duly voted on.

When queried on the suggested referendum, Mrs. Rolston said:

A tag day will be held in Nanaimo Saturday for flood relief, and Mayor George Muir said he believed the citizens would welcome a general drive for funds. The IOOE in Nanaimo already has a collection under way.

General Synod of the Anglican Church has authorized establishment of a flood victims' relief fund in Vancouver. Godfrey P. Gower, bishop of New Westminster, said today.

Bishop Gower said the fund would seek a minimum of $10,000 for flood sufferers in Britain and Europe.

Offerings for relief of flood victims will be taken up March 1 in all United Churches in British Columbia, according to an announcement by Dr. W. W. McPherson of Oak Bay United Church. Such gifts may be sent to the conference treasurer, Rev. J. L. Clerihue of St. Aidan's United Church in Victoria.

Vancouver Trade Board Prefers Vote

VANCOUVER (CP)—President Ralph C. Pybus says the Vancouver Board of Trade favors a new provincial election rather than have the CCF form the government if Social Credit is defeated during the present session of the Legislature.

"At the last election nearly 70 per cent of the electors voted for free enterprise parties," said Mr. Pybus. "Surely it should not be considered that a period of Socialist administration is an acceptable alternative without a new reference to the voters."

He referred to an earlier statement in the House that the Liberals would rather see the CCF form a government than for B.C. to have another election now.

Mr. Pybus said B.C.'s progress industrially depends on keeping a strong flow of investment capital coming into the province.

"It would be harmful should investors come to the erroneous conclusion . . . that this province is on the verge of having a Socialist administration," he added.

Offensive Costly, Says Gen. Bradley

WASHINGTON (UP)—It was learned late Wednesday that Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has solemnly warned the senate armed services committee that a Korean end-the-war offensive would not only risk all-out but would mean heavy casualties and require a vast expansion of the military mobilization program.

It was learned Bradley indicated the U.N. forces would have to be doubled to drive the Reds out of positions 30 feet in the ground and 20 miles in depth along a 155-mile front.

He suggested that stepped-up mobilization would mean new economic controls, higher spending in the face of the economy drive, and more taxes.

Democratic Sens. John J. Sparkman (Ala.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.) said they would press for publication of Bradley's testimony after deletion of information that might aid the Russians.

Canada Launches New Short-Term Bond Issue

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott today announced a new issue of $300,000,000 short-term bonds to provide for redemption March 2 of $325,000,000 in maturing bonds issued in 1950.

The new issue consists of two maturities—one 16-month 2 per cent bonds maturing July 1, 1954, and two 28-month 2½ per cent bonds maturing July 1, 1955.

The new 16-month bonds are being offered at 98.75 to yield about 2.96 per cent to maturity and the 1955 maturity is priced at 97.85 to yield about 3.21 per cent.

In each case interest is payable Jan. 1 and July 1, with the first four months' interest payable July 1, 1953. The issue will be offered immediately through investment dealers and brokers.

B.C. Areas Said Open to TV

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Province says in a newspaper story today that at least seven British Columbia communities are "being thrown open to television interests beginning March 26."

"CBC board of governors will consider applications for the private licenses in such areas as Victoria, Prince Rupert, Prince George, Dawson Creek, Nelson, Kelowna, and Kamloops," the paper says in a dispatch from Ottawa.

Naguib Announcement Follows Sudan Pact

CAIRO (AP)—Britain and Egypt today signed an agreement covering the future of Sudan, and Premier Mohammed Naguib's office said evacuation of British troops from the Suez Canal has been agreed upon in principle.

These are the two issues that have been separating Britain and Egypt. Solution of both could go a long way toward ending Egypt in the proposed Middle East defense command being framed by the West.

The Sudan is a 1,000,000-square-mile area which Britain and Egypt have been running jointly since 1899. The agreement gives the 8,000,000 Sudanese the right to join Egypt, join the British Commonwealth or set up an independent state. Early elections for a parliament are planned.

As for the Suez Canal zone, Stevenson expressed belief the agreement "opens a new era in the greater mutual confidence between our two countries."

The terms and text of the agreement were announced simultaneously in Cairo, London and Khartoum.

The foreign secretary said that early elections will be held for a Sudanese parliament, adding:

"It is the intention that preparations for these elections should be put in hand at once. The agreement further provides that during the transitional period the sovereignty of the Sudan should be kept in reserve for the Sudanese until self-determination is achieved."

These notable developments have been warmly welcomed by the Sudanese themselves.

The 1,000,000-square-mile Sudan lies at the headwaters of the Nile. Under an 1899 agreement Britain and Egypt have been running the country jointly. It has become a source of friction between the two countries. The agreement now leaves only one point of major disagreement between Britain and Egypt—the Egyptian demand for evacuation of British troops from the Suez Canal zone.

The Sudan agreement was signed by Naguib and Sir Ralph Stevenson, the British ambassador. Both expressed the wish to start discussions immediately on the Suez question, an Egyptian informant said.

Eden hailed the Sudan agreement as "a reasonable settlement of this question which has long bedeviled our relations with Egypt." Here in Cairo, Stevenson expressed belief the agreement "opens a new era in the greater mutual confidence between our two countries."
